FACELIFT

*we only perform best facelift technique, SMAS.

A face-lift (rhytidectomy) is a cosmetic surgical procedure that makes your face appear younger. The procedure can reduce sagging or folds of skin on the cheeks and jawline, as well as other age-related changes in the shape of your face.

The loss of youthful contours in the face can be caused by several factors, including skin thinning, loss of facial fat, gravity, sun damage, smoking, heredity, and stress.

Brow lift and eyelid surgery to rejuvenate aging eyes are two other procedures that may be performed in conjunction with a facelift. To replace the lost fatty volume, fat transfer or fillers may be suggested. To improve the quality and texture of the skin, skin treatments such as IPL, dermabrasion, peels, or laser may be offered.

Incision

Depending on the type of facelift you get, usually, our surgeon could make incisions on these places during surgery:

- In your hairline at your temples.
- Around your ears.
- At your lower scalp.

What makes someone a good candidate for facelift?

- Your facial development is complete.
- You are physically fit.
- You are not a smoker.
- You have a positive attitude and realistic goals for improving your appearance.

BEFORE & AFTER

TESTIMONIALS

A SMAS facelift, chin and neck lifts, eye brow lifts, and lower and upper eyelid lifts were all performed on me. In the US, it is considered six (6) different surgeries that Dr. Juta Panob performed in one. He genuinely cares about you, ladies. It's not about the money; it's about you, your health first and beauty second. Every time, I felt completely secure and protected. The night was difficult at first, but it improved after that. The irony is that for at least the last ten years, all young people addressed me as "Ma'am," but now they address me as "Miss." Isn't it fascinating?
